BEES LOSE SECOND
GAME TO ANGELSOaks Hand Champs of 1917
a Severe Beating—Final Score 17 to 4.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—The Seal champions were completely routed today by a surprise attack on the part of the Oaks and lost the engagement to the tune of 17 to 4. Every player in the Oaks lineup except a pinch hitter scored at least one run, two scored two runs each, one scored three and Catcher Mitze, the star of the day, tallied four times and made as many hits, including a double.

G. Johnson succumbed before the onslaught in the fifth. Phillips lasted through the sixth, when the Oaks tallied six times, and then J. Johnson finished it out, allowing four hits and six tallies in the last three innings. The Seals gathered a total of ten hits off Prough's delivery, enough to win an average game, but this was by no means an average game. They also made four errors, three of which Hunter contributed.

LARGE ENTRY LIST
FOR APRIL RELAY

PHILADELPHIA, April 4.—The entry list for the University of Pennsylvania relay carnival to be held April 26 and 27 is the largest in the history of the meet. The list, made public today, shows that 310 institutions will be represented in the seventy-two events. More than 325 relay teams will compete while many of the country's greatest athletes are entered in the military and college special events.

GREAT LAKES TRACK AND FIELD CONTEST

CHICAGO, April 4.—The Great Lakes track and field meet at the Great Lakes naval training station Saturday will be given absolutely gratis. There will be no charge for admission and programs will be free. Navy "chow" will be provided for spectators. Many western athletes of repute are entered.

SQUIRE EDGEATE

GIANTS WILL BE HARD TO BEAT

There is no club in the National League this year which will be watched more closely than the New York Giants. With two or three exceptions the Giants will present the same line-up as last year. At second base McGraw meets his big problem. Filling the shoes of Herzog, when Herzog is right, is a big job for any ballplayer. Doyle, a few years ago was as great a keystone sacker as Buck, but for two or three years, since he sustained a fractured leg, has been slipping. Doyle is a smart ballplayer. His influence is an asset to any ball club, but it is a question whether or not his mechanical playing will stand the strain. If not, McGraw must fall back upon young George Smith, who filled in during Herzog's absence last season.

Crandall by Arkenburg; Farmer by O. Crandall. Double plays—Arkenburg to Konnick to Sheely. Umpire—Frery. Time of game—1 hour 40 minutes.

Willard-Fulton Bout
Will Probably Be in Western City

NEW YORK, April 3.—All indications now point to the holding of the Willard-Fulton fight somewhere in the west.

Col. J. C. Miller, Willard's manager, left New York today for Chicago without making any announcement as to the scene of the coming Independence day battle.

A second offer comes from Colorado, this time from Colorado Springs. However, it was intimated that the Denver offer has not yet been eliminated from consideration.

A rumored offer from a syndicate of Ohio sportsmen who are said to have bid $200,000 for the privilege of staging the bout at Cedar Point has caused considerable speculation here. Cedar Point was the scene of the Kilbane-Chaney fight some time ago. Twenty-round bouts to a decision are permitted here.

FAVORITES VICTORS

IN GOLF TOURNAMENT

PINEHURST, N. C., April 3.—E. L. Scofield of Stamford, Conn., and Irvine S. Robeson of Rochester, the two favorites in the upper bracket of the first match round of the North and South championship golf tournament here today, won their matches easily. Scofield, the medalist in the qualifying round, defeated Howard G. Phillips of Pinehurst 8 to 6. Robeson beat Guy A. Miller of Detroit 4 and 3.

Dr. C. H. Gardner of Providence, who had been generally expected to come through to the finals in the lower bracket, was beaten, 4 and 3, by R. A. Stranahan, of Toledo.

VERNON STOPS
SENATORS 5 TO 4Score Tied in Sixth and Chester
Chadbourne Comes to Rescue of Tigers in Tenth.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 3.—Chester Chadbourne hit a ball over the right field fence in the tenth inning today and gave the Vernon Tigers a victory over the Senators, 5 to 4. The Senators started like a bunch of sandlotters and Gardner forced two runners over the plate by bases on balls.

In the sixth the Senators tied the score, four-all. In the ninth Willie, with a runner on second, pulled down a sensational catch on Babe Borton's drive to left, which looked like a three-bagger.

The two teams between them made ten errors, three of which were charged to Mitchell, the Tigers' shortstop. After the second inning Gardner pitched fair ball. He struck out Daley three times in a row when hits would have meant runs. Pronice was placed on third when Fisher batted for Elliott in the ninth, but didn't get a chance to show his wares.

GOLF PLAYERS TO AID RED CROSS

Western Golf Enthusiasts
Plan to Gather in Large Sum for Patriotic Cause.

CHICAGO, April 3.—Golf exhibitions by famous amateurs and professionals for the benefit of the Red Cross and other war funds were planned on a large scale today by representatives of the Western Golf association. The contests will be similar to those played last season by Chick Evans, national amateur and open champion, who almost single-handedly gathered $50,000 for the Red Cross. With the extended, formal program formulated today, it is said that upwards of a million dollars will be contributed by golfers to patriotic causes.

The plan as adopted today, with the sanction of President Charles F. Thompson of the Western Golf association, who wired his approval from Pasadena, Cal., calls for a series of contests over the courses of clubs who will guarantee the collection of a fund sufficient to defray expenses and leave a balance for the local chapter of the Red Cross.

It was decided to book matches from June 1 to October 15, and clubs may arrange for either one amateur and one professional, or two of each class. Crafts W. Higgins of Chicago, assistant secretary of the Western Golf association, was appointed to manage the events.

At today's meeting an offer of $5000 was made by the Hillcrest club of Kansas City, for a Fourth of July exhibition and several Chicago clubs filed bids for matches.

Among players who have volunteered their services are: Chick Evans, Warren K. Wood, former western champion; Robert Jones, southern champion, and Perry Adair, known as the Atlantic ponties; Kenneth P. Edwards, runnerup to Outimet in last year's western amateur championship; Miss Alexa Stirling of Atlanta, national woman's champion, and the following professionals: Jock Hutchins, Chicago; James Barnes, western open champion, Colorado Springs; Walter Hagen, former western and national open champion, Rochester, N. Y.; Robert MacDonald, Chicago; Phil Gaudin, Chicago; Gil Nichols, New York; George Sargent, Minneapolis, and George Simpson, Chicago.

INTERNATIONAL TO BE LAUNCHED SOON

NEW YORK, April 3.—The meeting intended to launch the new international league was postponed today and will not be held until tomorrow night. Some speculations still remain as to what cities will be represented, but it seems probable the following candidates will be represented at the meeting: Baltimore, Buffalo, Jersey City, Newark, Rochester, Scranton and Wilkesbarre.

CHAS. MITCHELL
DIES IN ENGLAND

Famous Fighter Who Met
John L. Sullivan Is Called by Death.

HOVE, England, April 3.—Charles Mitchell, one time middleweight champion in England, died here today of locomotor ataxia.

Charles Mitchell was born at Birmingham, England, November 24, 1861. Although he fought many ring battles against big men like Sullivan, Corbett, Cardiff, McCaffrey, Kilrain and Burke, Mitchell was a middleweight pugilist, never turning the scales at more than 154 pounds when in perfect condition. His remarkably fast footwork and skillful boxing offset this disadvantage in weight and he proved to be equally effective as a punisher when fighting with the padded gloves.

Mitchell's first battle was with bare knuckles when at the age of eighteen he knocked out Bob Cunningham at Birmingham, the bout lasting almost one hour. He scored several other victories during the two following years in bouts in England and on the continent.

After winning the middleweight and heavyweight championships of England in 1882, Mitchell came to America in 1883 with the intention of challenging John L. Sullivan. The stature of the "Brammagem lad," as he was then called, did not impress the American followers of pugilism, but when Mitchell met and defeated Mike Cleary a New York heavyweight in three rounds, he was quickly accepted as an opponent for Sullivan. These two met at the Madison Square garden in a four-round glove fight, under Marquis of Queensbury rules on May 14, 1883. The British boxer surprised the 12,000 spectators by meeting Sullivan's terrific rushes in the opening rounds, and after some heavy exchanges he scored a clean knockdown with a perfectly timed right smash to Sullivan's jaw, sending the Boston strong boy to the ring floor amid the wildest excitement.

This was Sullivan's first experience of a knockdown by an opponent and it happened toward the close of the first round. Sullivan rushed and roughed the visitor during the second round and three Mitchell over the ropes twice. Sullivan, with left swings to the jaw, knocked Mitchell down twice in the third round and with another left he had Mitchell hanging over the ropes when the police stopped the battle.

Mitchell always insisted that he would have been able to continue had the police not interfered and he never ceased to challenge Sullivan until the latter consented to another encounter, which took place five years later at Chantilly, France, on March 10, 1888.

This was Mitchell's greatest ring effort. They fought with bare knuckles for $2500 a side and the bout lasted three hours and eleven minutes. Mitchell drew first blood in the eighth round, but Sullivan got the credit of the only knockdown during the fight, which was declared a draw by Referee B. J. Angle of London.

After James J. Corbett had won the world's championship from Sullivan in 1892, Mitchell challenged him for the title and at Jacksonville, Fla., on January 25, 1894, Corbett knocked out the Englishman in the third round. This was Mitchell's last fight in the ring, as he returned to England and engaged in business there up to the time of his demise.
